The Cost of Hope: How Much Can Medicare Cover? With Congressman Jim McDermott

As a local follow up to the upcoming Regional White House Forums on Health Care Reform, Compassionate Care Alliance is honored to have Congressman Jim McDermott address these critical issues from his unique perspective as a physician and Congressman from Washington State.

As a member of Congress he's written single payer health care legislation, and will speak on a topic that becomes increasingly relevant in the face of new research: How do we allocate limited health care resources toward unlimited health care needs?

While medical technology allows us to relieve suffering, fight disease and live longer, it also presents ethical and financial challenges. How much care can a family afford? Is prolonging life always the right answer? Can Medicare funds cover the baby boom generation?
